PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

WWC, P.C.

New York, NY

Senior Audit Associate (promoted from Audit Associate in March 2025)

June 2024–Present

- Lead financial analysis and reporting engagements for consumer, technology, financial-services, digital-asset, and emerging-growth companies, evaluating revenue, operating expenses, working capital, liquidity, and key performance drivers.
- Perform period-over-period and expectation-based variance analyses across revenue, operating expenses, debt, and other significant accounts; trace movements to underlying business drivers and communicate concise findings to finance teams and senior management.
- Review multi-year cash-flow forecasts, liquidity requirements, capital expenditures, debt repayments, and financing assumptions; build sensitivity analyses to assess forecast reasonableness, downside risk, and full financial-statement impact.
- Evaluate close and reporting processes, including journal entries, account reconciliations, revenue recognition, debt, equity, and consolidation adjustments, with attention to U.S. GAAP, internal controls, and record accuracy.
- Build reusable Excel and SQL/Python tools to consolidate and analyze 10,000+ general-ledger records per engagement, automate exception identification, and standardize recurring deliverables, reducing analysis and review time by approximately 15%.
- Lead three concurrent engagements, coordinate priorities with 20+ finance and operational stakeholders, supervise 1-2 junior associates, and surface issues early to keep overlapping deliverables on schedule.

Wei, Wei & Co., LLP

Flushing, NY

Audit Associate

January 2024–May 2024

- Analyzed actual expenditures against approved budgets for 8+ government-contract and nonprofit engagements, identifying unusual spending patterns, funding shortfalls, and financial-reporting risks.
- Analyzed grant expenditures, payroll, and operating costs; identified $50K+ in questioned costs and prepared clear supporting analyses and corrective recommendations for management review.

SCPA

Shanghai, China

Audit Assistant

February 2022–November 2022

- Supported financial-statement and IPO audits across semiconductor, pharmaceutical, manufacturing, and state-owned enterprises; analyzed revenue, cost of sales, inventory, operating expenses, and working-capital accounts for significant trends and unusual fluctuations.
- Supported a $300M technology IPO audit by building financial models and analyzing payroll, fixed assets, tax compliance, and transaction-readiness data; completed post-loan reviews for 3+ entities focused on liquidity, cash flow, and covenant compliance.
